Mines Idle As
400,000 Stop
Work; No Pickets

Pittsburgh, April 1 (AP)—A work stoppage by the nation's soft coal miners, backing up the traditional "no contract, no work" policy of the AFL-United Mine Workers, began today for 400,000 workers whose collective bargaining contract expired at midnight.

Calm settled over the coal fields. Pres. John L. Lewis of the union, said there would be no picketing. Rationing of coal was started on government orders to insure supplies for urgent uses. The stoppage in production, if prolonged, threatened to disrupt the country's reconversion program. Already, one major steel company announced it would have to bank 20 blast furnaces.

The beginning of the work stoppage found members of the union ready for a holiday anyway—their annual celebration of April 1 in honor of John Mitchell, one of the union's earliest presidents, and to commemorate the 48th anniversary of the eight-hour day. Actually, the effects of the strike therefore will not be felt until tomorrow.

Operators Balked
President Lewis' principal demand from the coal industry is the establishment of a health and welfare fund for miners, to be created from an assessment on each ton of coal produced and to be administered by the union. The operators balked. The National Coal association said such a "royalty payment" levied for the benefit of the union would make Lewis "a dictator more powerful than any America has ever known."

Lewis refused to discuss other major issues of wages and hours until the welfare fund question is settled. Hope was held out that the stoppage would be brief. Operators and union representatives remained in Washington to continue negotiations. Secretary Schwellenbach, who on Saturday gave up hope of averting the walkout, named Paul Fuller, of Akron, O., as a special mediator to represent him at the conferences. Fuller also is special conciliator in the rubber industry in which he achieved agreement without a strike, Schwellenbach said.

Second Biggest Stoppage
Reports from coal areas said arrangements had been completed previously for union maintenance men to keep the pits in condition and Schwellenbach asserted he had assurance from Lewis that utilities dependent on coal would be provided for.

President J. L. Perry, of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, in announcing 20 of the corporation's 32 blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area faced the necessity of banking "almost immediately" with a strike, said.

"This situation would affect steel workers throughout this United Steel subsidiary and industry generally, resulting in the enforced idleness of a large number. In addition, many other workers would be affected to the extent of having only partial employment. Steelworkers have lost considerable time since January 21, the date of the steel strike, and further suspension of operations at this time would impose an additional hardship on steel employees and the economy in this area."

The steel strike, which lasted nearly a month through part of January and February, affected 750,000 workers and was the only work stoppage greater in scope than the miners' strike to be called in the nation since V-J Day.

150 REGISTER FOR PRIMARY

The office of the county commissioners estimated today that approximately 150 Adams county residents registered for the Spring primary up to the deadline at noon Saturday, in addition to those previously registered and carried over. No definite figures will be obtainable before the end of the week, however, Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk, said. Approximately 70 persons registered last week and 75 prior to the final week, Mr. Smith estimated. Of the prior registrations, 50 were Republicans and 22 Democrats. No compilation has been made of those who registered last week. About 30 persons registered Saturday morning alone.

New registrations, changes in address or changes in party affiliation could be made for 30 days after the general election last fall up to Saturday noon. The records will not be re-opened until five days after the spring primary on May 21.

Ribbentrop Says Russians Shared Guilt In Poland

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Nuernberg, April 1 (AP)—Joachim von Ribbentrop, former Nazi foreign minister, testified before the International Military Tribunal today that Prime Minister Stalin agreed in Moscow in August, 1939 that he "would never accuse Germany of aggression because of her actions in Poland."

The agreement was that "if aggression were spoken of both parties would be guilty," Ribbentrop said.

The accord, Ribbentrop continued, was reached Aug. 21, 1939—less than two weeks before the Nazi march into Poland—in the course of negotiations for a Russian-German non-aggression pact and a secret protocol for partitioning Poland, Finland and the Baltic states.

The testimony was given after R.

WARM MARCH GIVES WAY TO "FOOL'S DAY"

The warmest March in many years gave way today to April Fool's day weather that included samples of heat, cold, cloudy, clear, sleet, rain and sunshine.

Last month had an excess temperature of 314 degrees, Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer said, although the month did not present the town with any 86 degree days as did March a year ago when a weather record of 38 years standing was broken.

Highest temperature during the month was 78 degrees on March 28, but with nearly every day warmer than normal for this section, the month itself piled up a tremendous amount of excess temperature. March 1945 with a 266 degree excess was considered warm, but this past month set a new standard.

Bitter Frosts
The mean temperature for the month was 50.5 degrees, an average departure of 10.1 degrees above normal.

There were some cold days however. On March 12, the thermometer recorded a low of 22 degrees and there were bitter frosts on March 1, 4, 10, 11, 12, 13, 20, 21, 22 and 24. The mean maximum temperature of 63.2 brought the fruit buds hurrying and some trees were in blossom over the week-end. How they may have been affected by the sleet and cold today could not be immediately determined.

Rainfall was deficient, by 89 inch, during the month, with total precipitation being 2.53 inches. Largest rain was 83 on March 15. Only four days had a minimum of 32 degrees or below and on 12 days there was some precipitation. The weather was clear on 16 days, partially cloudy on four days and cloudy on 11 days.

The court house offices have been on Daylight Time for several years when they changed their office hours from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. to 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. The new hours were adopted by the court house officials several years ago when Gettysburg sought Daylight Time. The officials voluntarily changed their hours to conform to the new time. A short time later Gettysburg reversed itself and returned to Standard Time but the court house hours remained unchanged. Since that time the new hours have proved so popular that the changed hours were permanently retained.

Despite the fact that it is illegal to change the time most of the cities and towns in Pennsylvania adopt Daylight Saving Time each year. This year all the larger cities, including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and most of the other cities and towns have adopted the new time effective April 28.

Harrisburg, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Carlisle, Hershey and other nearby communities will adopt Daylight Time. All major radio networks will do the same. President Truman has suggested that Daylight Time be adopted and said he favored nation-wide adoption.

Gettysburg's town council will take up the question tonight but proposals are rather dim for its adoption.

LOSES LICENSE
The license of Donald L. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, has been suspended for reckless driving, state police at the local sub-station said they had been notified today by the state bureau of highway safety. The suspension was said to have occurred during the week of March 22. The bureau also announced the restoration of license to Harold E. Rife, New Oxford R. 2.

PAYMENT OF UNO DUES BY RUSSIANS BOLSTERS HOPE
By J. W. DAVIS
New York, April 1 (AP)—Russia's payment in full of her dues in the United Nations gave a boost today to hopes that the Security Council will soon be running on a full team basis.

It has been one man short since Wednesday when Russian delegate Andrei Gromyko walked out in protest against the council's refusal to defer the Iranian question until April 10.

Members of the other ten delegations could count three developments in favor of their hope that Russia might end what one official called a "temporary absence," and resume its place on the council when that body reconvenes Wednesday. These were:

1. The news from Moscow, released here by Secretary-General Trygve Lie, that Russia had paid in full her $1,723,000 assessment for the United Nations working capital.

Here And There News Collected At Random

The battered and much-bothered and discussed question of Daylight Saving Time for Gettysburg will receive its final "going over" tonight when members of the borough council will be asked to reach a decision on its adoption for this historic community this year.

The question has, according to local observers, little chance of being officially adopted by council tonight because officially it is illegal to change the time except by act of Congress.

The Gettysburg Times was informed by the Associated Press today that the act of the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1887, amended in 1921 and again in 1923, prohibits the changing of time except by act of Congress. However, there is no penalty or provision made for the enforcement of the act and many scores of communities and cities in Pennsylvania adopt Daylight Saving Time each year.

In Gettysburg the majority of town folks want Daylight Saving Time. Many in the rural areas, outside the borough, oppose it.

Two of Gettysburg's largest manufacturing plants want the new time.

HITLERITE PLOT GRIM WARNING NOW FOR ALLIES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The Nazi underground plot to revive Hitlerism in Germany, disclosed during the week-end, is grim warning to those who would relax the military occupation, that the allied task of reformation is far from finished.

It's highly significant that this revolt centered in the Hitler youth movement, for that remains the core of the resistance to allied authority. During my recent tour of the occupied areas I have mentioned in this column more than once—and want to emphasize again—that the dangerous element of the German population lies for the most part within the age range of from fourteen to thirty-five. There you will find the majority of those whom Hitler was able to hypnotize with his poisonous doctrine.

The youth movement fanatics represent the toughest of the human problems which the allies have in German rehabilitation. These young people—the most vital element in the Reich—are so thoroughly Hitlerized that there appears to be small hope of persuading many of them to a change of heart. They can be kept in hand only by force, for force is their God.

Our Main Hope

But the thing cuts deeper than that. Since this age group is largely lost to the allies, the most effective educational reform must be made among the younger boys and girls—the sprouting generation. There our main hope lies, and that is where the allies are concentrating heavily.

However, the occupation authorities are up against a great handicap because, while the children are friendly enough and are receptive to the proper training in their schools, they have to be sent home to parents who belong to the Hitlerized group. Thus it's bound to come about that many children's minds will be contaminated by their fathers and mothers who will use every means to undo the allied teaching.

The youth movement plot isn't surprising, of course, for it has been in the cards all along. And it isn't the last thing of its kind which we shall see, because it's natural for a beaten people to try to overthrow conquerors. You can see the threat of this in the sullen and often bitter looks you get from many Germans.

Town Briefs

Dr. Joseph Riley is a busy man these days -- renovating his new home on York street and getting ready to move his office into the store room on Chambersburg street, from which Timmins electrical business will move when the former Mitchell's tap room is available for the Timmins business. . . . Moving these days is a complicated business. One lady who lives in a city some distance from here, but who owns a house in town received 15 telegrams one day from people who wanted to rent her house. The 16th telegram, received the next morning, was from the tenant who said he was thinking of moving and asked if he advertise the house for rent? . . . A lot of folks are beginning to wonder why one car on Chambersburg street seems immune from parking meter tickets despite failure to pay the kltty. Seems like luck has been in favor of the driver so far. . . . Trouble is, a policeman can't be everywhere at the same time. . . . Wonder if Fairfield and Arendtsville high schools among others will be able to keep open if the new school appropriation law stays in effect? . . . Views about town: John Houser giving out cigars in celebration of his daughter's birth, then lighting his pipe for himself.

PEIFFER HERO OF ALLENTOWN TITLE VICTORY

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, April 1 (AP)—Allentown high's unbeaten basketball team, state champion for the second straight year, will carry its 45-game winning streak started in 1944 into another season.

The Canaries won the 1946 class A crown before a record breaking crowd of 12,000 at Philadelphia's Convention Hall on Saturday, crushing Homestead high, western title-holders, 45-27.

The class B crown also stayed in the east as Fell Township turned back a late rally to nose out Stonycreek Township, 37-34 at the Kingston armory.

Allentown's one-sided victory resulted in at least one shattered record, another equalled, and a third claimed by the followers of Coach Birney Crum's smooth-working Canaries.

Scored 24 Points

By scoring 45 points in a state final the champions passed the mark of 44 set by Nanticoke in turning back Erie East in 1923. The 45 consecutive wins equalled the mark set by Hazleton in 1928-29-30, while Frank Peiffer's feat of scoring 24 points was hailed as a new individual mark.

Peiffer was the hero of the Allentown victory, coming through with ten field goals, nine in the second half, and four foul tosses to almost match the best efforts of the entire Homestead team.

The veteran guard was slow to get started, and Willie Jackson, at forward, was largely responsible for Allentown holding a 21-14 lead at half-time.

But when Peiffer got started he was hard to stop. Dini tallied two fouls early in the second half. Peiffer got a field goal, and George Mountz, an Allentown substitute, made another double-decker to bring Allentown's total to 27.

Victory At Finish

Then Peiffer rolled in eight consecutive field goals while the Homestead boys looked on with amazement, unable to cope with this type of basketball.

While the Allentown game was one-sided to a point where the crowd began to go home early the class B game at Kingston was of a different story.

Fell had built up a ten-point lead going into the last period when Stonycreek started a desperate last ditch rally that cut the margin to one point with seconds to go. Mike Tokarczyk then came through with a field goal that clinched the fray for Fell just before the final gun barked.

GOLFERS PREP FOR LAST SHOW

By CHICK HOSCH

Augusta, Ga., April 1 (AP)—Golfers' leading professionals and amateurs were gathering here today for a series of practice rounds in turning up for the tenth annual 72 hole master tournament starting Thursday.

A vanguard of the 60-odd entrants, including Horton Smith of Detroit, and Byron Nelson of Toledo, the event's only double winners, has been on hand a week or so perfecting shots over the carefully groomed 6,800-yard layout.

A majority of those invited for the event, which was suspended after the 1942 tournament, got in today from Charlotte where that city's open was concluded yesterday with Bob Hamilton of Chicago, former PGA champion, winning.

This year's renewal is considered a wide-open affair with Nelson, who first won in 1937, out to defend his 1942 title against such contenders as Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., Hamilton, Sam Byrd of Detroit, Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Texas, and Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va.

Guldhall Holds Record

Hogan, leading money winner of the winter tour, which concludes here, was runnerup to Nelson in 1942, losing by one stroke in a playoff, after they had wound up in a 280 deadlock. Demaret won in 1940, and Sneed was second in 1939, a stroke behind Ralph Guldhall, who set the event's existing record that year at 279, nine under par.

Yesterday's practice round the first of four days of formal tuning up, was paced by Ralph Hutchinson of Bethlehem, Pa., who had a 70, two under par.

BOWIE OPENING MARRED BY FIRE

Bowie, Md., April 1 (AP)—Racing returned to Maryland and the east today when Bowie opened a 12-day spring meeting—the first to be held here since 1942—with some well-known names missing from the entry lists because of a fire which caused the deaths of 21 horses.

Saturday night's costly fire on undetermined origin was the third important development to precede Bowie's return to the racing scene after a war-time lay-off caused by transportation restrictions.

Earlier, the Maryland Racing Commission had announced that a mobile laboratory for one-the-spot "doping" tests would be used here, and the track management had announced a $400 increase in minimum purses and discontinuance of bonuses to grooms and exercise boys after the meeting ends.

Five horses killed in the fire which destroyed one barn and damaged two others had been entered on the opening-day card.

The loss in horseflesh was estimated at $100,000 by Joseph Camac, public stable trainer.

CASTLE SHANNONS WIN

Pittsburgh, April 1 (AP)—The Castle Shannon soccer team earned the right to represent the Pittsburgh district in the national amateur cup series by defeating the Heidelberg Loesgos, 2-1, at nearby Bridgeville yesterday.

To provide facilities for the busy 178 miles of New York's water-front, 722 piers are required.

PASQUELS SIGN HOME RUN KING VERN STEPHENS

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The wealthy Pasquel brothers, of Mexico, who are defying organized baseball in the United States in an effort to put their Mexican league on a big-time basis, today had four more major leaguers in the fold and observers south of the border freely predicted more American players may be signed soon.

The Pasquels, who already had a dozen former big leaguers under contract, made their prize catch Saturday by signing Vernon (Junior) Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns and American league home run king last year, for five years.

Says New Surprise Due

After announcing the signing of Stephens, Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican loop, remarked he had "another very big surprise for the boys in the United States."

No sooner had the words reached the ears of the big league club owners than it was disclosed yesterday that three members of the New York Giants, second baseman George Hausmann, first baseman Roy Zimmerman and pitcher Sal Maglie, had accepted offers from the Mexican loop. New York President Horace Stoneham, upon learning the trio had been negotiating with the Mexican circuit, which is not a member of organized baseball, dismissed them from the team.

Asserting they will receive twice as much money as they would from the National league club, in addition to bonuses of $5,000 apiece plus $1,000 for expenses, the three players said they planned to leave for Mexico by plane at noon today. They will be distributed among the various clubs, as had been done with the other major league players.

Offers Refused

The eight-team Mexican league now has a limit of eight foreign players to a club but that figure is expected to be raised. Don Jorge last month offered three-year contracts of $360,000 to Hank Greenberg of Detroit and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, and a five-year contract of half a million dollars to Bobby Feller of Cleveland. These offers were refused, but Pasquel says he is confident of landing more major leaguers "within the next two weeks."

Training Camp Briefs

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals made a box office check today and found a new record attendance of 51,753 customers paid to see the spring exhibition games played here by the Red Birds and the New York Yankees. The old record was 47,835.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers now have Pete Reiser, Cookie Lavagetto, Augie Galan and Billy Herman out of commission and none may be able to appear in the season's opening game.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and the Baltimore Orioles start their seven-game barnstorming trip north today. They meet tomorrow at Charleston, S. C., and will separate after a game at Frederick, Md., April 10. Baltimore outlasted the A's here yesterday, 11-10.

Miami Beach, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, rained out of a doubleheader against major league teams, are scheduled to face easier opposition today. The Phillies will play the Miami Beach club of the Florida International league. Manager Ben Chapman announced that Pitcher Lee (Buck) Ross, purchased conditionally during the winter from the Chicago White Sox, had been returned to the Sox.

Lakeland, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The world champion Detroit Tigers broke camp here today and began a leisurely northward jaunt that will end April 16 with their season opener against the St. Louis Browns in Detroit. Their first stop along the way is scheduled Tuesday at Pensacola where they will meet the Boston Braves.

New Orleans, April 1 (AP)—The New York Yankees are continuing to play to big crowds in their spring training tour. The Yanks drew a total of 23,120 customers in their two-day stand here against the New Orleans Pelicans of the southern association. The Yanks won both games, defeating the minor leaguers 6-4 yesterday.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, April 1 (AP)—Australia, the only remaining home of professional foot racing, is trying to get Gunder Haegg and Arne Anderson to run a special mile next summer when the world professional sprint championship is revived in Melbourne. . . . Meantime, the "Stawell Gift," a 130-yard dash for 500 pounds, will be run as usual at the little town of Stawell next month and some 30,000 Aussies will bet their boomerangs on the outcome.

Monte Kennedy, the pitcher for whom the Giants paid Eddie Moores $25,000, had only 17 innings experience in organized baseball at Richmond before he went to the army. He won one game and lost two in 1942. . . . A fox turned up on the Church Hill Downs track during morning workouts the other day. The fact that he picked that time instead of waiting until the races are on prove he's smart as a fox.

TIME OUT

Hearing that an 80-year-old Morgantown, W. Va., woman had been tabbed "America's No. 1 fan" because she hadn't missed a state high school basketball tournament in 32 years, Arkansas cage followers point out that Sammy Feldman of Holy Grove, Ark., has an identical record. . . . Can you think of anyone who can beat this pair?

MONDAY MATINEE

Colby Jack Coombs, Duke university baseball coach, is preparing another edition of his book on baseball. What other coaches would like to know is where Jack finds all the good players. . . . The All-America Football conference likely will announce its list of officials at next week's meeting if it has enough of them under contract. . . . Jeff Beard is business manager of Auburn U. athletics and this brother, Percy, the old Olympic hurdler, holds a similar position at the U. of Florida. . . . To get a ticket to an Auburn-Florida game you have to beard Beard in his den. . . . Frank Szymanski, who left Notre Dame for the Detroit Lions, is back on the South Bend campus for his final college semester. He has an overall classroom average of 98. And Whizzer White, who showed Art Rooney what a Rhodes scholar can do, is back at Yale to finish his law course. . . . "Those are two players," comments Drum-beater George Strickler, "who didn't have to be broken in to shoes."

GREEN HAND

Win Green, the Boston Red Sox trainer and laugh provoker, was the victim of a frameup when the ball club returned from a Havana visit. . . . Going through the customs at Miami, officials were giving the luggage a cursory once-over when Broadway Charley Wagner remarked in a very audible stage whisper: "I sure hope they never found out about the stuff Green smuggled in from South America two years ago." . . . The examiners picked up their cars and proceeded to search Win's five pieces of luggage, in each of which the jokers had managed to conceal some small Havana purchase. . . . The real victim was Secretary Tom Dowd who had to do the explaining and get everybody on a waiting plane.

FOR ART'S SAKE

Chicago, (AP)—An octogenarian who entered the Chicago Art Institute through a window and stayed 54 years said today Chicago culture had changed somewhat since 1892. "People don't spit on the floor like they used to," said Mr. Thon, 82. He arrived at the institute with a wagon load of statuary too big for the door. He stayed and became assistant superintendent of the building. Asked about his interest in art, he replied: "I'm more interested in keeping the place clean."

$250,000 In Purses For Auto Speedsters

Williams Grove, Pa., April 1 (AP)—

Big car auto race drivers looked forward today to sharing in approximately $250,000 in prize money that Roy Richwine, owner and operator of Williams Grove Speedway, said would be distributed at 80 scheduled events throughout the east and midwest.

Originally set up for 30 big car races, the schedule now calls for 80 races through the addition of a number of fair dates, explained Richwine.

The first of these races will be at Williams Grove on April 14 when prize money totaling $3,000 will be distributed. This is one of the largest purses ever paid at a half-mile track, said Richwine. Seven events are on the opening day's program.

Bathroom In Hotel Becomes Gas Chamber

Pittsburgh, April 1 (AP)—A man ended his life by inhaling hydrocyanic gas fumes in a sealed hotel bathroom after posting a "danger" warning outside the door, Coroner William M. McClelland reported today.

Hotel employees entered the room Friday night and found the body of the victim who had registered as R. E. Davis of 909 Union avenue, Cleveland. A sign outside the tape-sealed door warned: "Danger. Do not enter. Call fire department emergency squad."

Deputy Coroner Charles Murphy said a further investigation was being conducted since a check disclosed no such Cleveland address.

Coroner McClelland also reported that R. E. Rindfuss Friday night ended his life by hanging. The body was found in Rindfuss' north side home.

VALLEY FACES TRANSIT STRIKE

Scranton, Pa., April 1 (AP)—A strike of 400 AFL Scranton Transit company workers, called for Friday, threatens to halt all street car and bus service to approximately 300,000 daily riders in Lackawanna valley—heart of the anthracite region—unless a new contract is accepted by labor and management.

The existing agreement expired at 12:01 a. m. today.

Members of the Street Carriers' Union (AFL), yesterday voted to strike. The union seeks wage increases of 43-cents-an-hour for trolley and bus operators. (They now get 82 cents), and a 25-cent-an-hour boost for mechanics.

Spokesmen for the company said two transit firm wage offers were rejected by the union. One provided for uniform increases of eight cents an hour, the second granted a 13-cent hourly boost on condition the union canceled a contract clause providing for time-and-a-half payment for all work over 8½ hours for bus and trolley operators.

Scranton Transit serves industrial Scranton and the area from Carbondale, 18 miles north, to Old Forge, four miles south.

The walkout, if it materializes, will be the second in less than a year. The transit employees quit work for 25 days last May 20 returning to their jobs only when the struck facilities were seized by the federal government.

APRIL 6th Know your Regular Army in Peace

VICTORY has stilled the guns of war and stopped the terrible carnage of combat. But it has not ended the task to which this nation has dedicated itself since December 7, 1941.

On the armies which conquered the aggressors now falls the solemn obligation of securing their hard-won triumph . . . of bringing order out of the chaos of war-torn countries . . . of carrying out the commitments entered into by our Government.

More than half a million young men from every corner of the United States already have joined the new peacetime

Regular Army to see this job through, and to take advantage of the splendid new enlistment privileges which make the peacetime Regular Army one of the most attractive careers open to them today.

On April 6, Army Day, you will have an opportunity to meet your new Army face to face at public exhibits and demonstrations throughout the United States. By visiting these displays, you will, perhaps for the first time, appreciate the full scope of the Army's activities, and the enormous contributions they make to every-day civilian life.

The Army's research and exploration in radar, electronics, aviation, communications, chemistry, medicine, sanitation, disease control, mechanics, engineering and countless other fields are all important to you. For eventually you benefit from their inventions, developments and improvements.

This is your Army . . . an Army of which you can well be proud. Make a point of making its acquaintance on Army Day—April 6!

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

APRIL 1

Pin the lining of my sleeves; turn my rubbers inside out.
"You forgot to tie your shoes!" let me hear the children shout.
Tie a string upon a purse; pull away and laugh at me!
Here's the happy day once more when a fool I'm glad to be.

Sew my napkin to the cloth; pass me salt for sugar sweet;
Chocolate coat a square of soap and pretend it's good to eat;
Say I'm wanted on the 'phone and my conduct wait to see!
Here's that April day once more when a fool I'm glad to be.

Put a brick beneath a hat; I will gladly risk a kick!
Little boy and little girl, I will fall for every trick.
All the artifice you've learned on your grandpa you may try.
There will be no happier fool on this April first than I.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A SPECIAL THOUGHT HOUR

Nearly every one of us has thoughts that come to us, throughout the day, that we would like to enlarge upon, but in the rush and confusion we let them pass. Why not make a note of each in a small book and later in the day when our main work is over, sit quietly and consider them all?

I have formed the habit of saving clippings from publications that I read, for a later reading. Many of these talks are written from that source. Thoughts grow so much richer to us when considered in a quiet mood. That Thought Hour might be arranged for the last hour before retiring, thus clouding out many a disturbing experience of the day.

Setting aside several favorite books for late reading is an excellent idea. They can make the Thought Hour that much more enjoyable and profitable. Their nourishment may well extend the journey, and add to the happiness, of your dreams!

A highly prized friend may even be added to the Thought Hour, and an interchange of thoughts presented. Thoughts radiate even without the clothing of words. Silence is often more golden than expression.

If people would get away more from the daily turmoil, and worry over petty things, take a trip to some inspiring spot, and there think out some of the more important thoughts that concern one's spiritual happiness, there would be fewer nervous folks walking around irritating others. A camping trip, a fishing excursion, a visit to some historic place, or the joy of a tramping walk into the forest—each, and all, can be made the occasion for many a Thought Hour.

Most of us accept too blindly the thoughts of others. Montaigne retired to his "castle" that he might organize, and express his own thought, which he did in his immortal essays. Thoreau read few books, excepting those which stimulated his own thoughts, furnishing additional nourishment to them.

I know of one friend who told me that he rarely missed an early sunrise. I can think of no better hour for Thought. Or that one that precedes the setting of the Sun as the doors of daylight close to those of the night.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Futility of Meddling"

Food Shortage Said Cause Of Next War

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., April 1 (AP)—Hunger and privation caused by world-wide food shortages "may become the first step toward future war," the Foreign Mission conference of North America declares in a resolution.

The conference, in closing sessions of its 52nd annual meeting Friday, asked the government to "take immediate steps to institute a rationing program which would assure minimum supplies of food required overseas."

It is said the number recommended by the President to the Military committee is 15,000.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The First: Saturday was a dismal rainy day, unfavorable to moving, and business incident to the 1st of April went over to Monday and Tuesday. The exchanges of Real Estate were not numerous as usual; hence financial difficulties were more readily bridged over. So far as we are advised, there were few, if any, failures to meet engagements.

Jacob Aughinbaugh, Esq., was elected Secretary; Hon. S. R. Russell, Treasurer; and John N. Krauth, Esq., Counsel.

On A Visit: Mr. Samuel Herbst, who recently removed to North Carolina, has been in Gettysburg for some days, closing up some business transactions: Mr. H. is pleased with his new home, and will return to North Carolina in the course of a week or two. We need hardly say that there is no truth in the silly stories about liars, etc., on the property purchased by him. Mr. Herbst is too shrewd a business man to be caught in that way.

PETUNIAS GIVE LONG BLOOMING SUMMER TO FALL

Petunias occupy an important position in the annual flower garden. They stand high in the list of favorites because of the glorious mass effect they give from early summer until after the first light frost.

Plant breeders can be proud of the accomplishments they have wrought from the wild petunias, violacea and nyctaginiflora, both of them native to Argentina.

It is a long way from these small-flowered wild forms to the present magnificent color range of the various types and the diversity of form and size. More general garden display the smaller-flowered kinds are preferred because of the abundance of blooms they carry. Those belonging to the hybrids, hybrida grandiflora and Balcony type are best for mass effects, but the giant-flowered varieties often are chosen where their enchanting beauty permits close inspection.

Some of the newer giant-flowered sorts appear almost as floriferous as the smaller ones, not by counting the number of blooms but by judging from the color coverage.

The bedding kind have the advantage of giving a good stand of plants from seeds sown outdoors where they are to flower. The larger types require more exacting growing conditions until they are well established, so that indoor sowing is important to secure a satisfactory stand of seedlings.

Thrive in Sunny Location

Choose a sunny bed for petunias and make sure the soil is well drained. Because the seeds are very small, careful sowing is needed to prevent excessive thinning after the plants are up. Some gardeners prefer dropping a pinch of three to five seeds, three to five inches apart in the row, and in that way make a perfect go further than sowing the conventional way.

Because they are so small, they cannot stand more than the slightest covering. The best way is to open up a shallow furrow, just deep enough to be seen, for receiving the seed. Watering with a fine spray is all that is needed to wash the soil into close contact with the seed, but care must be taken that no puddles form at any time. Some prefer to sprinkle a little moist peat moss over the row before applying water with a very fine spray. If the weather stays dry give more water, as the soil must not be permitted to dry out, at least not until the seedlings are well on their way. After that the plants can stand a really surprising degree of dryness.

Thinning Advised

Where the plants are coming up too thickly, they must be thinned to stand not less than four inches apart. If the excess plants are removed with care they can easily be transplanted to other parts of the garden.

The giant varieties and those with double flowers need an indoor start as early as possible to get the flow. Choose a porous mixture of two parts light compost soil and one part sharp sand. Equal parts garden soil, humus and sand will serve where no compost soil is available.

Sift the mixture through a half-inch mesh and fill the containers to within an inch of the top. The remainder is then filled with the same mixture put through a quarter-inch mesh sieve. Press down on the surface with a smooth board and give a thorough soaking with a fine spray. When the moisture has seeped away, sprinkle the seeds thinly on the surface, or better still sow thinly in rows spaced two inches apart. A light sprinkling with charcoal dust to cover the seeds from view will help to prevent damping off.

Add a clean pane of glass to prevent excessive evaporation and use a sheet of newspaper to protect the plants against the direct rays of the sun. Germination is quickest 70 degrees Fahrenheit, but just as soon as the seeds are up reduce to 60 degrees, and also remove the glass cover. Transplant to the garden after one or two transplantings to other containers.

INDESTRUCTIBLE CLIMBER

Lonicera Halleana is a favorite climbing honeysuckle, because it is almost indestructible. Because of its vigor, care must be taken to keep it within bounds. Any long shoots creeping over the ground must be lifted and tied up or cut away before they take root, which they will do at every leafnode that touches the soil surface.

If used on garden houses together with other climbers, it is well to terminate its height at a predetermined point by cutting away once every two weeks all shoots exceeding the limit. In that way privacy will be retained inside the garden house, and the more desirable climbers, such as wisteria or trumpet

Things Of The Soil

Rules For Honey In Cooking

Honey may be kept almost indefinitely, if tightly covered near room temperature (about 70 degrees) where the humidity is fairly low.

All honeys tend to crystallize—turn to "sugar." Such honey may be easily liquefied by placing the container in a vessel of moderately hot water (not above 140 degrees). Higher temperatures injure both the flavor and color of honey.

Honey contains on an average about 75 per cent sugar—two simple forms known as levulose (fruit sugar) and dextrose (grape sugar). It contains less than 2 per cent of sucrose (cane sugar). And on this point it is always wise to remember that sucrose is the least beneficial of all forms of sugar, when measured in terms of human health.

Ordinary extracted honey is about one-fifth water. If it were not for this fact, housewives would find a pound of honey equivalent to a pound of sugar for sweetening. However, in using honey as a substitute for sugar in cooking and canning, it may be increased accordingly to make up for this difference.

Too, in as much as honey is one-fifth water, recipes for cakes, confections, meringues and other items where the moisture content must be calculated accurately must have the other liquid ingredients reduced accordingly.

When canning with honey, either in part or wholly in the place of sugar, use a large vessel to prevent vine, will have the top to themselves.

2 tablespoonsfuls of melted butter to each cup of meringue.

Despite the fact that honey contains less actual sugar than do the products from cane and beets, it yields more bodily energy. For example, 1½ tablespoonsfuls of honey have an energy-producing value equal to 2 tablespoonsfuls of sugar.

As a general rule of safety the oven temperature should be slightly lower when baking cakes in which honey is used as all or part of the sweetening agent.

When using honey in canning fruits, it should be mixed in water or other liquid instead of being added directly to the fruit.

Housewives interested in honey cookery may obtain a helpful publication on the subject, including several excellent recipes, by writing the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Office of Information, Washington 25, D. C., and asking for Leaflet 113—Honey and Some of Its Uses.

A big block of ice in your cooler tank is your guarantee of always cooling your milk under 50° in the required time. It takes fast cooling to keep down the bacteria count, and the big block of ice in the SURGE Cooler gives you fast cooling. The SURGE gives you the advantage of colder water to start with, and the big block of ice, which never melts entirely away, keeps the water cold. That's why you get fast cooling with the SURGE. If you're in the dairy business to make money, it's the Cooler you want. There is a proper size SURGE Drop-In Unit to fit our standard cabinets from 2 to 16-can capacity. GOP FACTIONS HIT CAMPAIGN TRAIL AGAIN

Harrisburg, April 1 (P)—Both Republican organization and New Guard candidates hit the campaign trail this week in a fast developing fight for control of the party in Pennsylvania at the primary election on May 21.

Slated candidates of the Republican organization, including Governor Martin for U. S. Senator and Attorney General James H. Duff for Governor will open a series of regional meetings at Johnstown, on Wednesday. They will hold another one at Williamsport on Saturday.

Governor Martin will address the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Other organization candidates who will attend the regional meetings are Col. Daniel B. Strickler, for lieutenant governor, and William S. Livengood, Jr., for another term as secretary of internal affairs. Subjects to be discussed at the meetings have not been announced.

John U. Shroyer, who was dismissed by Governor Martin as state secretary of highways for "disloyalty" to the administration, criticized top party leaders in a speech Friday night at Honesdale, Pa., and said he would continue along the same lines during the campaign.

He said there was need to "revitalize" the GOP in Pennsylvania and urged removal "from power" of Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol manufacturer; G. Mason Owlett, Republican national committeeman and State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

The New Guard group, backed by William H. Harman, Philadelphia industrialist, meantime, announced appointment of 12 county leaders to head the campaign for Shroyer and his running mate, J. Calvin Frank, for secretary of internal affairs, in their respective counties.

Slated Democratic candidates, with only Col. John S. Rice, for governor, facing opposition at the primary, did not announce any scheduled speaking dates for the week. Rice is opposed by Henry A. Morris, Mahanoy City.

Voter registration lists for the primary closed throughout the state Saturday but tabulation of the figures is expected to require several weeks.

Boy Unimpressed By His Notoriety

Philadelphia, April 1 (P)—Mayer Trobman, the three-year-old son of an optometrist who was the object of an intensive two day police hunt, was home today apparently unimpressed that he made front-page headlines across the nation.

"I've been away," he told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trobman. The chubby, blue-eyed youngster would say nothing more.

Meantime, police continued questioning Emilia Regine Sobka, 23-year-old parolee from the Clinton (N. J.) reformatory for women in connection with the child's disappearance last Wednesday. The boy and the woman were picked up by police in Attica, N. Y. Friday night.

Miss Sobka denies she kidnaped the boy. She told New York state police the Trobman child was left in her custody by a truck driver who gave her a lift.

Detective Lt. Bart Gorman of Philadelphia said the woman would be formally charged after questioning is completed. He said he did not

Souvenir Shell Mangles Boy's Hand

Philadelphia, April 1 (P)—It was just a war souvenir. . . A harmless dud. . . His pals said "those old shells won't hurt you"—but today five-year-old William McBride doesn't have a right hand.

The 40-millimeter anti-aircraft shell he was playing with in his grandmother's home yesterday exploded when he tapped it with a hammer. The resultant blast shook the house, ripped windows loose and turned the wrist of his right hand into a mass of torn and bleeding flesh.

Little Billy was described in critical condition today at a hospital.

The few times the youngster regained consciousness he said:

"But those boys told me it was all right. They couldn't hurt me. . . and. . . will I get a new hand?"

Mrs. Anne Jean Nelson, 28, the boy's mother, said the shell had been brought home by Billy's uncle.

NEW BLOOD

Willmar, Minn., (P)—Maurice Lindblad has upset the Johnson political cart. For several years all of the successful candidates for Whiteside township offices have been named Johnson. But this year Lindblad won the post of supervisor.

Names of all other township officers? Johnson.

Flashes Of Life

DO NOT DISTURB

Cornberg, N. Y., (P)—The housing shortage was responsible for this message on city police headquarters bulletin board:

"Is sleeping in his own car on North Pine street. Do not disturb him. Chief."

Officials explained the car occupant had been forced to seek new living quarters after fire damaged his rooming house.

NO KIDDING

Oakland, Calif., (P)—Radio announcer Jimmy Muir learned the hard way you can't kid about nylons or butter.

He jested into the mike thusly:

"A leading Oakland department store will place 5,000 pairs of nylons on sale Monday morning—but as usual, there is a catch.

"You must by 10 pounds of butter for every pair of nylons. Be sure to state the exact color of butter desired."

The station was swamped with 500 telephone calls from women wanting to know where and what time.

Kirchner said Steffy admitted starting the blaze, then joined firemen in battling the flames.

Fifty-two million gallons of oil are required daily by the U. S. fighting forces.

"Death Sentence" Clause Is Upheld

Washington, April 1 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld constitutionality of the "death sentence" clause of the Public Utility Holding Company act.

The clause requires interstate gas and electric holding companies to limit their operations to a single integrated system.

The court ruled on an appeal by the giant North American company from an order by the Securities and Exchange Commission. SEC directed North American to divest itself of all but one of its utilities systems.

Justice Murphy delivered the 6-0 opinion. Justices Douglas Reed and Jackson dissatisfied themselves, leaving a bare legal quorum of six judges to decide the case.

STRANGE TRAGEDY

Ellsworth, Pa., April 1 (AP)—Riding atop a loaded coal truck with his back to the cab, James Evans, 12, was killed near this Washington county community Friday, when his head was crushed against a beam on an overhead bridge. Deputy Coroner Kenneth Thompson reported.

OLD PACT MAY EASE IRAN CRISIS

New York, April 1 (AP)—A treaty signed by Russia and Iran 25 years ago may be produced in a "surprise witness" role before the United Nations Security Council investigation of current difficulties between the two countries is ended.

No reference was made to the February 26, 1921, "treaty of friendship between Iran and Russia" in the first round of discussions, climaxed by Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's boycott of two sessions in which Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala was permitted to state his country's case.

Attention centered chiefly on the Soviet-British-Iranian pact of 1942 guaranteeing evacuation of all foreign troops from Iran six months after the end of the war against the Axis.

Moscow's answer to Secretary Trygve Lie's request for complete information on the dispute however, may include an invitation for the council to examine the 2,000 word "treaty of friendship."

Russian quarters contend it has a direct bearing on two important aspects of the tangled situation: (1) The presence of Russian troops in Iran and (2) the sanctity of treaties.

Chapter 28

Fennel reached for her hand and held it.

"No way to get out of here," he said. "Can you shoot?"

"Shoot?"

"I have an automatic, but I can't do much with my left hand."

"I never even saw one, except in the movies," she said. "And I'm afraid—I couldn't shoot anyone—even if I knew how."

"Of course you couldn't," he said. "I was only thinking of shooting the lock, so that we could get out."

"I'll try it."

"I'm afraid it would—"

Something fell past them, something like a great white bird and struck the ground with a terrible thud, and did not move.

And from the next room came a scream.

"My child! You've killed my child! Let me go! My child!"

"It's Wren!" cried Di.

"Stand here!" said Fennel. "You can see the white doorknob. Stand close—there. Aim just below the knob. Pull the trigger."

The noise faded. And in the next room that wild voice was still shouting; some article of furniture was overturned with a crash.

"Try again!" said Fennel's quiet voice beside her. "No so high."

Again a stab of flame and the crash of the shot, and the splintering of wood.

"Too low!" said Fennel. "Now! This time you'll do it."

She aimed with desperate care, tried to steady her shaking hand. Her finger was on the trigger, when there came a yell from the next room.

"Help! Help! Murder!"

The shot went wild.

"Last bullet," said Fennel. "Never mind, dear. You've splintered the wood. I'll see if I can kick through that panel."

"Help!" yelled that voice.

"We're coming, Wren!" she called, with all her strength.

Fennel gave the door a well-directed kick; a second.

Then another shot sounded, there was a cracking, tearing sound, and Fennel collapsed on the floor.

"What happened?" she cried. "Oh, what's the matter?"

"Stand away from that door!" he shouted.

But she was on her knees beside him. She spoke to him, but he did not answer. All noise had ceased in the next room, all noise everywhere had ceased; there was a silence that seemed to ring in her ears.

"James!" she said.

"Yes?" he answered in his ordinary, composed voice.

"What's happened to you?"

"I got a bullet in the leg," he said. "Through the door."

She was passionately determined to be as quiet, as cool as he; she must not disappoint him.

"What can I do for you?" she asked.

For answer he laid his head back against her shoulder, and she began to stroke his forehead.

Outside the pines stirred in the breeze, and far away a dog barked strength.

CONSERVATIVES ARE VICTORS IN GREEK VOTING

Athens, April 1 (AP)—Leaders of the Conservative Populist party claimed a victory today in Greece's Sunday elections and declared the size of the vote was an overwhelming defeat for Communists and other left-wing parties who had waged a campaign for the voters to stay away from the polls.

The election possibly paved the way for the eventual return to the throne of King George II.

Constantin Tsaldaris, chief of the royalist division of the Populists, said "as a result of the majority with which the Populists carried the election it (the party) will undertake to regulate the political situation with full respect to the expressed popular will and will be guided by national interests."

20 Deaths Reported
Regent Archbishop Damaskinos agreed with a suggestion of Premier Sophoulis, who tendered his resignation, to consult the executive committee of the Populist party, on formation of a new government. Tsaldaris said the party would not insist upon having its own man as premier, however, and indicated a broadened coalition government might be organized.

The press ministry announced that out of 272,855 votes cast in 499 precincts in different parts of Greece, the Populists received 155,487 votes; the National bloc—a coalition of National Unionists, Social Democrats and Venizelist liberals — 67,578 votes, and the middle-of-the-road Liberals, 49,790 votes.

Clashes between Communists and government forces resulted in 20 deaths, most of which occurred Friday and Saturday. Order prevailed in most sections of the country during the actual voting.

WRECKED SHIP RECALLS CREW

San Francisco, April 1 (AP)—The merchant ship Oneida Victory which reported she was in sinking condition last night after colliding with the tanker W. L. R. Emmet off the California coast, early today messaged for her crew to be returned aboard.

The crew left the stricken vessel last night in boats and boarded the Emmet, with the captain, a radio operator and two injured men remaining aboard the Oneida Victory.

Mackay radio reported that message from the Oneida requested the Emmet to return the crew and asked the tanker to stand by.

The Navy's Western Sea Frontier Headquarters sped two sea-going tugs to the scene, 12 miles east southeast of Point Conception in hopes of towing the Oneida to Port Hueneme, Calif. Other naval craft, including an aviation crash-rescue speedboat with a doctor and medical supplies, hastened toward the damaged ship.

The navy reported the Emmet was damaged but was in no danger. Shortly before midnight a navy report said the Oneida was listing 23 degrees and was taking on water rapidly.

The 10,000-ton (dead-wt.) Victory ship, completed in Baltimore in November, 1944, was bound for Vancouver to load cargo for Europe. The vessel is operated by the United Fruit company and her home port is Baltimore.

Says Job Training Important To Trades

Harrisburg, April 1 (AP)—The GI job-training program was described today by Robert C. Schwanbeck, Jr., of Williamsport, as "one of the most interesting as well as one of the most flexible and useful programs which has ever been put before the American people."

Schwanbeck, assistant mechanical superintendent of the Grit Publishing company, described the government-aid set-up at the 1946 Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association mechanical conference.

With the U. S. furnishing subsistence allowances to augment the learner's pay, Schwanbeck said, "the proper use of this training program will permit any veteran, even with dependents, to finish his training period and become a skilled workman."

He commented that "with the progress that has already been made in the printing trade it is becoming more and more necessary to keep looking ahead and building up each trade in order to keep up with the rapid changes coming in the printing and publishing business."

The Pan American Union started out in 1890 as the International Bureau of American Republics.

ARMY REGRETS ABOLITION OF CAVALRY UNIT

Washington, April 1 (AP)—Military men heard with sentimental regret today that the War Department has decided to abolish the cavalry as a separate branch of the army.

There was no official confirmation, but service publications report that a general army reorganization proposal awaiting President Truman's approval calls for merging the horse outfits with the Armored Force.

Trends in World War II were all in that direction. Fast-moving cavalry reconnaissance outfits fought colorfully on several fronts, but they traveled in light tanks and armored cars rather than on horseback.

The First Cavalry Division fought on foot in the Pacific, and Negro troopers of the Second Cavalry Division were employed in service units after the North Africa landing.

Spectacular History

The horse cavalry did see some action, though, in the China-Burma-India theater. There the 12th Regimental Combat Team which stemmed from a Texas National Guard outfit operated. It remains the army's only such unit.

Men familiar with War Department planning for the atomic age are inclined to doubt that the reorganization plan contemplates putting the army's remaining horses out to pasture. Rather they think it will limit horse cavalry units to a few outfits trained for specialized tactics in rugged terrain.

Abolition of the cavalry as a separate branch would be the final chapter in a spectacular military history studied by such names as Robert E. Lee, George A. Custer, and George S. Patton.

Lee resigned from command of the old Second Regiment in 1861 as a lieutenant colonel to lead the Armies of the South. The Seventh was under Custer's command at the 1876 battle of the Little Big Horn. Patton regrettably took leave of horses, but employed cavalry dash in winning renown as the best known tank commander of World War II.

The Romans first used the ballot system in 139 B.C.
